RePurpose needs a handful of greater Seattle schools to help us prove a business-to-school furniture donation marketplace can work.

How will it work?

You'll be able to save money by choosing from a selection of gently used 21st century office furniture for your current refurbishment projects. Ideally, you'll want furniture for spaces like libraries, study or breakout areas, to help increase productivity and space utilization. Once chosen, your furniture will be sent to your school, or to a selected distribution center.

Participation Requirements

- The school Principal actively supports participation in the trial
- The school needs office furniture for refurbishment of a common space
- An elected Office / Procurement Manager has authority to claim furniture on behalf of the school in a timely manner (2 to 3 weeks estimated)
- Custodians or others are available to coordinate / install new furniture and remove old
- School donation regulations allow you to accept furniture and issue a tax credit

Schools benefit because administrators and teachers can easily gain access to more, higher quality performance furniture, without spending their own dollars. The result, better equipped schools that enhance the student learning environment.
